11 Plaintiff,

12 v.

13 PETE BUTTIGIEG, Secretary of the
14 Department of Transportation,

15 Defendant.
16

Case No. C17-1759RSM

ORDER DENYING MOTION TO CONTINUE TRIAL DATE

17 This matter comes before the Court on Plaintiff Alisha Silbaugh's Motion to Amend Trial
18 Date. Dkt. #60. Pursuant to a stipulation filed by the parties, trial was set for September 20,
19 2021. Dkt. #53. The same month that stipulation was filed, Plaintiff's counsel at the time
20 withdrew. Dkt. #56. Plaintiff obtained new counsel entering an appearance on April 4, 2021.
21 Dkt. #58. The instant Motion was filed a few weeks after that. Plaintiff's new counsel states he 22 is counsel of record in a case set for trial on Tuesday, September 21, 2021, Caldwell v. Spencer
23 (Navy), C.A., Case No. 3:19-cv-06095-BHS, and informs the Court that he "is not able to try two 24 cases simultaneously." Dkt. #60 at 1.

27 The Government opposes this Motion, arguing that "plaintiff's decision five months
28 before the trial date to hire an attorney who is unable to comply with the case schedule is not

1 good cause.” Dkt. #61 at 1. The Government points out, “Plaintiff’s motion does not state that
2 she and her new counsel have a preexisting attorney/client relationship or argue that her new
3 counsel is the only one who can represent her in this matter.” Id. at 2. The Government points
4 to its own scheduling issues as a source of prejudice if this Motion is granted. Id.

5 Plaintiff has declined to file a reply brief.

6
7 A scheduling order “may be modified only for good cause and with the judge’s consent.”
8 Fed. R. Civ. P. 16(b)(4). The decision to modify a scheduling order is within the broad discretion
9 of the district court. Johnson v. Mammoth Recreations, Inc., 975 F.2d 604, 607 (9th Cir. 1992).
10 “Rule 16(b)’s ‘good cause’ standard primarily considers the diligence of the party seeking 11 amendment.” Id. at 609. If a party has acted diligently yet still cannot reasonably meet the 12 scheduling deadlines, the court may allow modification of the schedule. Id. However, “if that 13 party was not diligent, the inquiry should end” and the motion to modify should not be granted.
14 Id. Local Civil Rule 16(m) states that “this rule will be strictly enforced” in order to “accomplish
15 effective pretrial procedures and avoid wasting the time of the parties, counsel, and the court.”
16 While prejudice to the party opposing the modification may provide additional reasons for 17 denying the motion, it is not required to deny a motion to amend under Rule 16(b). Coleman v.
18 Quaker Oats Co., 232 F.3d 1271, 1295 (9th Cir. 2000).

21 Plaintiff has the burden of demonstrating good cause and has failed to do so. The Court
22 finds that Plaintiff hired new counsel who knew of a scheduling conflict. Plaintiff fails to explain
23 why she must proceed with this new counsel or why this otherwise constitutes good cause to 24 modify the scheduling order. Although the prejudice to the Government is likely small, it does 25 exist and weighs against granting this Motion.

1 Having reviewed the relevant pleadings and the remainder of the record, the Court hereby
2 finds and ORDERS that Plaintiff Silbaugh's Motion to Amend Trial Date, Dkt. #60, is DENIED.
3

4 DATED this 12th day of May 2021.
